

I find it appalling that such blatant partisanship is allowed on national cable television. It is a detestable tactic that I would not have expected to see in the country which is held to be the bastion of democracy.